1. Membership Definition

1.1. The award of Membership of the College is conferred upon a veterinarian who is eligible to sit and successfully passes an examination in a given Membership subject.

1.2 Membership of the College should signify the following:

"Membership of the College is an official recognition of a veterinary surgeon's knowledge and experience in a designated field of veterinary science. Membership is an indication to the profession and the general public of an advanced practitioner, representing a middle-tier of knowledge, competence and experience in a specific area of veterinary practice. Membership is not a specialist qualification. Membership requires examination with members signified by post-nominals MANZCVS."

Although Membership of the College indicates that the member has some expertise and competence in the nominated area, it is important to note that Fellowship is the College qualification that signifies the standard required by those seeking veterinary specialist registration.

1.3 Subject Definition: The content of the examination is defined by both the subject title and the subject guidelines.

2. Eligibility

2.1. Candidates for Membership of the College should be eligible for registration as a veterinarian in an Australian State or in New Zealand.

2.2 At least three and a half years must have passed between graduation and taking the examination.

2.3 Depending on a candidates circumstances and work situation, including exposure to the subject area and mentorship, longer periods of preparation might be advisable.

2.4 Council may at its discretion approve a candidate who has veterinary qualifications recognised in any other part of the world providing he or she has fulfilled such other conditions as may be determined from time to time by Council.

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP BY VETERINARIANS WHO HAVE QUALIFICATIONS NOT ELIGIBLE FOR GENERAL REGISTRATION IN AUSTRALIA OR NEW ZEALAND.

- a. Individuals who have veterinary qualifications not eligible for general registration in Australia or New Zealand, but which are recognised in any other part of the world, may apply in writing to College Council to sit College Membership examinations and attain Membership of the College.

Application letters must be accompanied by:

- i. a current curriculum vitae; which includes a list of national and international professional conference attendance since graduation or during the last five years (if greater than five years have passed since graduation).
 - ii. a letter of support for the applicant from a member or the Australian and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists or another veterinarian registered in Australia or New Zealand.
 - iii. a certified copy of the testamur of the applicant's veterinary degree (English translation) which allows him/her to register to practice in the country of origin
- b. In the case of applicants whose first language is not English, it is strongly recommended that the applicant's competency in reading, writing, speaking and listening to English be at a level at least equivalent to an IELTS (International English Language Testing System) score of 7.0 in all sections in the academic (not the general) module. Lack of competency in English cannot be used as a reason for appealing a Membership examination result.
 - c. Approval to sit Membership examinations is granted at the discretion of Council.
 - d. Successful applicants are notified within 7 days of the decision by Council.
 - e. Applicants are advised that passing the College Membership examinations and being granted Membership of the College does not entitle him or her to register to practice as a veterinarian in Australia or New Zealand.

APPLICATIONS FOR UK/EUROPE MEDICINE OF CATS MEMBERSHIP BY VETERINARIANS WHO HAVE QUALIFICATIONS NOT ELIGIBLE FOR GENERAL REGISTRATION IN AUSTRALIA OR NEW ZEALAND

- a. Individuals who have veterinary qualifications not eligible for general registration in Australia or New Zealand, but which are recognised in any other part of the world, may apply in writing to College Council to sit College Medicine of Cats Membership examinations and attain Membership of the College.

Application letters must be accompanied by:

- i. a current curriculum vitae; which includes a list of national and international professional conference attendance since graduation or during the last five years (if greater than five years have passed since graduation).
 - ii. a letter of support for the applicant from a veterinarian registered in Australia or New Zealand or a veterinarian who is a member of the International Society of Feline Medicine.
 - iii. a certified copy of the testamur of the applicant's veterinary degree (English translation) which allows him/her to register to practice in the country of origin.
- b. In the case of applicants whose first language is not English, it is strongly recommended that the applicant's competency in reading, writing, speaking and listening to English be at a level at least equivalent to an IELTS (International English Language Testing System) score of 7.0 in all sections in the academic (not the general) module. Lack of competency in English cannot be used as a reason for appealing a Membership examination result.
- c. Approval to sit Membership examinations is granted at the discretion of Council.
- d. Successful applicants are notified within 7 days of the decision by Council.
- e. Applicants are advised that passing the College Membership examinations and being granted Membership of the College does not entitle him or her to register to practice as a veterinarian in Australia or New Zealand.
- f. Successful applicants for Membership in Medicine of Cats are expected to demonstrate a high level of interest and competence in Medicine of Cats. This is judged by that standard of knowledge and understanding, practical skills, attitude, methodology and communication which would make the person suitable to give professional advice to veterinary colleagues not similarly qualified on problems or procedures often encountered or used in general practice, in the relevant area of Medicine of Cats.
- g. Applicants are advised that College Membership in Medicine of Cats is not a Specialist level qualification. Further training, publication and examinations towards Fellowship of the College make up the required pathway for potential specialist status.

3. Standards of Membership

- 3.1 Applicants will be assessed on their knowledge and skills at the Membership examination. Performance in the Membership examination is assessed on the basis that the candidate shall achieve a pass mark of 70% or above as detailed in section 12.8 and 12.9.
- 3.2 Although Membership of the College indicates that the member has some expertise and competence in the nominated area, it is important to note that Fellowship is the College qualification that signifies the standard required by those seeking veterinary specialist registration.
- 3.3 The depth and breadth of each Membership subject are clearly described in each subject's specific set of Subject Guidelines, available from the College website. Candidates should refer to the Subject Guidelines for information on learning outcomes, recommended reading lists and the examination itself. The Membership examination will specifically test the depth and scope of the subject, as described in the specific subject guidelines.

6. Examination Fees

- 6.1 The current fee schedule is $AUD 1,375.00 for the Australian Membership examination fee in 2019.
- 6.2 The fee for Membership examination is payable on or before 31 October in the year preceding the year of examination. The Membership fee has two components: an administration component and an examination component.
- 6.3 The administration component is 25% of the Membership examination fee. The administration component is non-refundable in the event of withdrawal from the examination.
- 6.4 75% of the examination fee is refundable if the candidate withdraws more than 100 days prior to the date of the written examinations.
- 6.5 The examination fee will be forfeited if the candidate withdraws 100 days or less before the date of the written examinations.
- 6.6 The fee structure is imposed by College Council which retains the discretion to refund examination fees on compassionate or medical grounds.
- 6.7 Examination fees do not attract GST.

7. Mentors

- 7.1 The Board of Examiners recommends all Membership candidates develop a professional support network during their time preparing for the Membership examination in their chosen discipline. In particular, it is recommended that a specific relationship be established with an experienced person who will act as a mentor to the candidate. Mentors can provide encouragement and support for the candidate as well as more specific advice on preparation for examination and study progress. The mentor is not responsible for the candidate passing or for demanding him/her to study but will act as a recognised and available primary source of information and advice. The mentor is not required to teach the candidate about the discipline. The purpose of a mentoring system is to provide a candidate with an experienced sounding board to help them approach their independent learning activities. The mentor relationship aims to assist the candidate to appreciate the scope and standard of the examination; and to develop an effective study/learning plan.
- 7.2 There are many benefits from being a mentor. These include an opportunity to play an important role in a colleague's professional life, supporting your College Chapter and enhancing and refreshing your own knowledge and skills. Many current members of the College will have already benefitted from an effective mentoring system, and the College would encourage current members and those familiar with the examination process or equivalent systems to play an active role in supporting those striving towards the membership exam.
- 7.3 All College members will be asked on an annual basis on their membership renewal forms if they would be willing to act as a mentor.
- 7.3.1. Mentors should be familiar with the examination procedures and levels of skill and knowledge required to pass the examination as explained in the relevant Subject Guidelines.
- 7.3.2. Mentors should be approachable, supportive and available for discussion.
- 7.3.3. Ease of contact and geographical location of the mentor are important. Frequent contact is considered important to a successful candidate/mentor relationship. Personal, face to face meetings are very effective in assisting candidates to prepare, particularly closer to the time of the examination. Other modes of contact including email, phone, internet video (Skype)/phone link or letter can also be very effective.
- 7.4 It is the candidate's responsibility to initiate contact with a mentor. Membership examination candidates will be directed by the College Office to a database of College members willing to act as mentors. The database will be located on a secure site within the College website. Each candidate is expected to approach a proposed mentor individually through the database. If a candidate has difficulty securing a suitable person to act as a mentor, the College office may help by contacting relevant Subject Standards Committee (SSC) members for assistance. Candidates may alternatively nominate a particular mentor not on the database that they have identified from discussions with colleagues. In this case, chosen mentors should be highly trained in the field in which the candidate is sitting and preferably hold Membership or Fellowship qualifications themselves (or a similar level of qualification from overseas).

- 7.5 The following information should be provided to the mentor by the candidate:
- 7.5.1 name, address and contact details (phone, Skype, email) for the candidate
 - 7.5.2 a copy of the candidate's C.V. to help the mentor appreciate the level of experience and preparation the candidate has already achieved.
- 7.6 Both the candidate and mentor must ensure they have access to:
- 7.6.1 a copy of the current Subject Guidelines for the candidate's examination subject
 - 7.6.2 copies of recent examination papers in the subject.
- 7.7 During the examination preparation period, the mentor should be expected to discuss with the candidate:
- 7.7.1 the general depth and breadth of knowledge required to pass the examination
 - 7.7.2 the style of examination
 - 7.7.3 a timeline for the candidate's preparation for the examination
 - 7.7.4 a study strategy or an approach to learning in the key areas identified in the Subject Guidelines' Learning Outcomes
 - 7.7.5 the allocation of time for library and other reference reading and making of synopses for revision
 - 7.7.6 the need to do practice examinations
 - 7.7.7 mentor's feedback on the candidate's progress in preparation for the examination
 - 7.7.8 mentor's feedback on the level of knowledge a candidate demonstrates in written and/or oral practice examinations.
- 7.8 Each mentor/mentee arrangement will vary. The following is suggested as a guideline only and should be tailored depending upon needs. A general expectation would be that a mentor be available for meeting in person or by phone a minimum of three times during the six month period of candidature. More extensive email correspondence may be sufficient to replace these meetings. It is recommended that the exact nature of the interaction be discussed and agreed to at the beginning of the mentorship. The first meeting might be used to establish the level of interaction and to discuss general aspects outlined above, particularly around a study/learning approach. The second meeting might be a progress meeting at which time might be allocated for the candidate to ask questions regarding specific learning areas. The third meeting might be to provide feedback on specific answers/tasks that the candidate may have prepared for the mentor in practice for examination.
- 7.9 If at any stage, a change in mentor is desired by the candidate, or a mentor is unable to continue to fulfill the duties described above; it is the candidate's responsibility to communicate the concern with the mentor and subsequently approach a replacement mentor from the list of available mentors on the College database. If necessary, the College office may help by contacting the relevant Subject Standards Committee (SSC) members for assistance.

8. Annual Membership Subscription Fees

- 8.1 The costs of administration of the College are met by the members of the College. The annual Membership subscription fee is increased annually by the CPI index.

9. Study Recommendations

- 9.1 Some sort of structured study regime is strongly recommended. It must be individually tailored to suit the candidate's own specific needs.
- 9.2 It is suggested that the candidate devise a suitable study plan. In this regard, consider the following:
- formulate a written, master study plan
 - invest sufficient time and thought in developing an effective and realistic study plan
 - write the plan in outline form; be specific
 - include a timetable with dates; chronologically indicate the beginning and conclusion of each area of study; adhere to the timetable
 - maintain frequent contact with your mentor
 - adhere to the study plan
 - refer to the study plan frequently
- 9.3 It is suggested by some that the study plan cover a two year period. This is probably a realistic time frame. Others feel that a shorter study period is sufficient. Each candidate must make his/her own determination in this matter. It is strongly recommended that time be set aside each and every week for some aspect of the study.
- 9.4 It is recommended that candidates check the College web site prior to the examination for copies of past examination papers and for advice on examination format in the relevant subject guidelines.
- 9.5 Candidates should prepare for questions that require answers in essay or short note format, but multiple choice type questions may be used (see 12.2 or 12.6 below).

10. Examination Technique

- 10.1 Candidates should aim to communicate clearly, using appropriate technical (rather than colloquial) terminology in both components of the examination.
- 10.2 Many candidates for the College membership examinations have not taken formal examinations for many years and may need to revise their examination techniques. There are no fixed rules to good written examination technique but some techniques to consider are:
- a. using the perusal time to read each question carefully;
 - b. making an outline of each answer that incorporates important points and presents that information in a succinct and orderly manner,
 - c. writing clearly and briefly.

- d. taking care to answer all parts of the question being asked, using the format requested e.g. essay form, short notes, lists etc.
- e. candidate's might consider writing sample questions and then answering them under time constraints.

10.3 Many candidates find the oral examination the most difficult. It is important to prepare as fully as possible for this component. One suggestion is to have trial oral examinations with previously successful candidates, your mentor or University colleagues experienced in giving oral exams. Information to assist candidates prepare for the oral examination are available from the College website:
<https://www.anzcvts.org.au/oral-examination-information-to-assist-candidates/>

11. Misconduct of Candidates for Examination

The highest standard of conduct is expected of candidates seeking Membership or Fellowship of the College. On their applications for examinations Candidates are required to read and sign an agreement to be bound by the College's rules, regulations and guidelines.

Participating in any improper conduct such as cheating, attempt to cheat, assisting others to cheat, participating therein is a serious violation and will result in the College disqualifying the candidate's paper and other disciplinary action as may be deemed appropriate, including, but not limited to, forfeiture of examination fees and/or exclusion from the College. This includes before during and after the examinations.

Candidates must not give or receive assistance of any kind during the examination.

During the examinations Candidates are expected to behave with integrity and follow all proper and reasonable instructions whether given in writing or by any College Officer including examination Invigilators and Observers.

Examples of improper conduct include but are not limited to:

1. Attempting to gain unfair advantage by ascertaining the content of the examination before the examination period.
2. Sharing information about the content of the examination during the period in which Candidates have been requested not to disclose it.
3. Sharing or attempting to share answers with other Candidates during the examination.
4. Attempting to obtain assistance with answering questions by any means including the use of notes or phones.
5. Presenting false information in the application or any other documentation.
6. Failing to follow the proper and reasonable instructions of College Officers.

The Board of Examiners Examination Committee will investigate any irregularity or suspected violation of examination discipline, and a determination by the Board of Examiners will be made regarding the matter.

Code of Conduct

This Code of Conduct applies to all Members (including Associate Members) and Fellows, as well as those seeking to become a Member of the College.

As veterinary science is a profession, the College requires those who have been admitted to the College, as well as those seeking to join the College, to display the highest standards of conduct which the public would expect to see from professionals. These standards of conduct include demonstrating high standards of personal behaviour and conduct, such as:

- Treating College staff, Members, Fellows and candidates, together with co-workers, employees, clients and the public with courtesy, respect and honesty;
- Ensuring that the person does not unlawfully discriminate against, harass or vilify (as defined by any Australian or New Zealand common or statutory law) any other person;
- Maintaining respect for, and compliance with the law;
- Upholding high ethical standards, particularly in their professional business dealings;
- Complying with the College's policies and the provisions set out below.

All Membership candidates, Members (including Associate Members) and Fellows should note that the Constitution of the College states that Council may take action against any Member who has, in the opinion of the Council, engaged in conduct which is unbecoming of a Member or prejudicial to the interest of the College. These include:

- a serious breach of this Code of Conduct;
- a deliberate or serious breach of the Constitution;
- any significant disciplinary action taken by the member's registering authority, in any jurisdiction;
- serious professional misconduct; and
- infamous conduct including conduct discreditable to the profession of veterinary science.

Candidates for Membership should note compliance with this Code is a condition of eligibility under 5.5.1.3 of the Constitution, including the above provisions regarding conduct which is unbecoming or prejudicial to the interest of the College which apply to candidates to the same standard as they apply to Members.

12. The Examination

12.1 Examination Components

The Membership examination has two independent components - 50% of the overall grade is derived from each component.

Component 1

Written Paper 1 (two hours)

Written Paper 2 (two hours)

Written Paper 1 and 2 are two parts of this component

Component 2

Practical/Oral.

For most disciplines this is a single oral examination, but some disciplines e.g. Pathology and Radiology have separate practical and oral examinations. The length of the single oral varies but it is usually approximately 45 minutes - 1 hour.

12.2 Examination Structure

The structure of each component of the examination shall be included in the subject guidelines for the information of candidates and examiners. Information to be provided is listed below. Chapters may include more detail if they wish.

For written examinations:

- The number of main questions
- The total marks for the exam
- The duration of the exam
- Whether the examination contains a choice of questions (for subjects with electives only)
- The question types which will be included (e.g. long answer, multiple choice).
- The marks per main question. This may be a range where main questions are not of equal value.

For practical examinations:

- The number of main questions
- The total marks for the exam
- The duration of the exam
- The question types which will be included (e.g. long answer, multiple choice).
- The marks per main question. This may be a range where main questions are not of equal value.
- How the questions will be delivered (e.g. on paper, on a slide show)
- The type of ancillary materials used (e.g. images, digital radiographs, histopathology slides)

For oral examinations:

- The number of main questions
- The total marks for the exam
- The approximate duration of the exam
- The marks per main question. This may be a range where main questions are not of equal value.
- The type of ancillary materials used (e.g. images, digital radiographs, laboratory results).

Revisions to examination structure can be planned as part of subject guidelines review and must be submitted to the College Office by 31st October in the year preceding examinations. Changes to examination structure are not permitted after this date.

Examination structure is subject to the following limitations:

- The maximum duration for each written examination paper is two hours for membership examinations
- Both written papers must be of the same total marks
- It is recommended that there be 60 marks allocated per hour of examination
- All questions and sub-questions must be out of a whole number of marks
- The perusal time for written exams will be 15 minutes for membership examinations. During perusal time candidates will be allowed to write on scrap paper only
- There will be no perusal time for practical examinations
- No choice of questions or parts of questions is permitted except in subjects for which the subject guidelines specify that candidates can elect to meet some learning outcomes and not others. For such subjects, choice is permitted across the electives but not within the elective.
- No more than 20% of an examination component shall be multiple choice question type
- The following question types are primarily used to test fact-recall rather than higher order thinking and thus are unlikely to be acceptable for fellowship and membership examinations: true-false questions, matching questions, short answer (fill in word or single sentence) questions.
- If there are multiple choice questions these must be put together in one section
- Ancillary materials used in examinations must be of very high quality and contain adequate information for interpretation (for example an indication of magnification on micrographs).

12.3 Examination Location

- 12.3.1. Written examinations will be offered in selected venues. Oral examinations will be offered only at one specific venue for all examinations, except the Medicine of Cats UK that is offered biennially, in Birmingham.
- 12.3.2. Once having indicated that he or she will sit the examination, failure of a candidate to attend will be recorded as a fail except in extenuating circumstances. Exceptions will be at the discretion of the Chief Examiner.

12.4 Equitable Assessment Procedure Policy

The Australian and New Zealand College of Veterinary Scientists is committed to allowing all candidates for examinations access to equitable assessment procedures. If a candidate believes that the circumstances, locations or systems of the examination procedures (written, oral and / or practical) do not allow them to fully display their professional knowledge, skills and behaviours, they are strongly encouraged to submit a request for variation of assessment procedures.

Requests for variation of assessment procedures should be made in the form of a draft plan which must:

- Be directed to the Chief Examiner via the College Office and submitted by 28th February in the year of the examination, or earlier.
- Be accompanied by a letter of support from their health professional¹ or professionals outlining measures requested to enable the candidate to fairly display what they know and have learnt during the examination process, in addition to those routinely provided to all candidates. This letter needs to include specific areas where changes to standard practices are requested - some examples might include;
 - Large print examination papers.
 - High contrast materials (papers, photographs, slides).
 - Increased lighting.
 - Extra reading time.
 - Use of a scribe or keyboard or other data entry device.
 - Extra toilet breaks or rest periods.
 - Wheel chair access.
 - Ergonomic furniture.
 - Measures to allow increased audibility (i.e. in oral examinations).

In consultation with the candidate, a plan which accommodates as many of the candidates' requests as are possible will be developed. Note that this plan will take into account;

- The contents of the professionals' letter of support.
- Costs, locations and timeframes.
- Fairness to the other candidates in the examination system.

- Whether the candidate wishes their examiners to be informed of the reasons for modifications to their examination.

Modifications to the examination process can only be made in areas that the examination was not intending to measure. Assessment procedures such as marking proformas, marking schemes, assessment keys and ‘fail/pass/supplementary mark levels’ will not differ between candidates in each examination stream. The subject guidelines outline the areas that are to be examined for every candidate.

Note that all examinations will be carried out in English. Requests for variation of procedures that include translations to a foreign language will not be permitted.

The plan for variation of examination procedures will be agreed and signed by the candidate and the Chief Examiner prior to 130 days before the written examination date.

Excepting small, incidental changes on the day, neither party may divert from the previously agreed plan during the examination process. The Chief Examiner or their delegate(s) will monitor examination procedures to ensure that the agreed plan is adhered to.

Strict provisions of confidentiality will be applied to notification by any candidate to the College.

The College cannot act to accommodate variations for candidates who do not submit a request for variation of examination procedures.

The Board of Examiners will strive to provide a fair process of assessment to all candidates, however if a plan cannot be developed and agreed to by both parties, the matter may be referred to Council for resolution.

12.5 Calculator Policy

Examination Candidates may take a non-programmable calculator into any component of the examination for their personal use.

Instruction booklets or cards (e.g. reference cards) on the operation of calculators are NOT permitted in the examination room. Candidates are expected to familiarise themselves with the calculator’s operation beforehand.

Calculators must have been switched off for entry into the examination room.

Calculators will be checked for compliance with this policy by the examination invigilator or observer.

Features of approved calculators:

In addition to the features of a basic (four operation) calculator, a scientific calculator typically includes the following:

- fraction keys (for fraction arithmetic)
- a percentage key
- a π key
- memory access keys
- an EXP key and a sign change (+/-) key
- square (x^2) and square root ($\sqrt{\quad}$) keys
- logarithm and exponential keys (base 10 and base e)
- a power key (ax , xy or similar)

- trigonometrical function keys with an INVERSE key for the inverse functions
- a capacity to work in both degree and radian mode
- a reciprocal key (1/x)
- permutation and/or combination keys (nPr , nCr)
- cube and/or cube root keys
- parentheses keys
- statistical operations such as mean and standard deviation
- metric or currency conversion

Features of calculators that are NOT permitted include:

- programmable (any calculator that can have a sequence of operations stored and then executed automatically is considered programmable and hence not allowed)
- capable of storing text or alphanumeric data input by a user (this does not exclude calculators with memories that are used to store intermediate numerical results obtained during calculations and required later)
- capable of storing, manipulating or graphing functions entered in symbolic form (this includes calculators with a graphic display capacity)
- capable of performing ‘hard-wired’ numerical routines for operations such as differentiation and definite integration, and the solution of equations
- capable of performing ‘hard-wired’ symbolic manipulations such as addition of algebraic expressions, binomial expansion and symbolic differentiation
- capable of performing ‘hard-wired’ numerical routines for operations such as differentiation and definite integration, and the solution of equations
- capable of external communication or web connectivity.

12.6 Written Examination

- 12.6.1. Examiners from both Australia and New Zealand (and on occasion from other countries) may be involved in drafting the examination where appropriate. Candidates will not influence the choice of examiners.
- 12.6.2. The written examination will comprise two two-hour written papers taken on the same day. There will be an additional 15 minutes perusal time for each paper. Each paper should require candidates to answer several questions within the two-hour period. Questions may have subsections.
- 12.6.3. The structure and content of each paper will be based on information contained in the Subject Guidelines for that particular subject.
- 12.6.4. Paper One will be designed to test knowledge and understanding of concepts and principles relevant to the subject. Paper Two will address the practice and clinical applications of the subject.
- 12.6.5. The examination will explore the entire breadth of the subject as described in subject guidelines. Choice within the examination in the subjects where it is allowed will not allow an excessive degree of specialisation.

- 12.6.6. Examinations will not be biased towards any candidate's special interest.
- 12.6.7. Questions may be essay type, a series of small parts or multiple choice. A clear indication of the marks allocated to each question or subsection will be provided.
- 12.6.8. Examiners for a particular subject will mark the written papers independently.
- 12.6.9. All examination papers will be destroyed six months after the examination date.

12.7 Oral Examination

- 12.7.1. For most oral examinations the candidate, and two or in some cases three examiners, and an observer representing the Board of Examiners, will sit in a room together.
- 12.7.2. Candidates will not influence the choice of examiners or observers.
- 12.7.3. On occasion, it may be necessary to recruit an alternative examiner for oral examinations at short notice due to sudden illness of the intended examiner. In these cases, it is unlikely the College office will have time to notify candidates of a change in examiners.
- 12.7.4. The oral examination usually takes the form of a discussion between the examiners and candidate. Case material for discussion may be presented using for example digital images, photographs, radiographs, videos or histology slides. The candidate will be assessed on his/her knowledge of theory, ability to interpret data and solve problems, and communicate orally.
- 12.7.5. The oral examination will usually begin with straightforward questions and progress to more difficult ones.
- 12.7.6. Only the notified examiners and the Board of Examiners appointed observer will be present with the candidate during the practical and oral examinations. If for any reason the Head Subject Examiner wishes to invite an additional person to be present, he/she must write to the College office to seek approval from the Chief Examiner. This approach must be made prior to the examination and must explain the reasons for inviting the additional person. If approval is granted, the College office will inform the candidate(s) in writing prior to the week of the Oral examinations:
 - that there will be an additional person present with the Chief Examiner's approval and the name of that person;
 - the reason for the additional person being present;
 - that the additional person will not take part in any aspect of the examination.

Candidates will be asked to contact the College office immediately if they have any objection to the additional person's presence.

The additional person must be placed in the room in such a position that he/she is clearly not actively involved in the examination process nor likely to distract the candidate. The additional person must not under any circumstances speak to anyone in the room during the examination and specifically must not be involved in asking questions of the candidate.

The Board of Examiners observer will ask the additional person to leave if it is their opinion that the presence of the additional person is causing distress or distraction to the candidate or the examiners.

- 12.7.7. The oral examinations for each candidate within a subject will be standardised so that each includes the same number of questions of similar scope and depth of areas assessed and addresses the same learning outcomes.
- a) The same examination questions will be used for all candidates examined in a subject on the same day and by all examining teams in that subject working concurrently on the same day.
 - b) For subjects in which oral examinations span more than one day of examining, the questions must be changed after each full day of examining, while maintaining the number of questions and the similarity in scope, depth and learning outcomes assessed.

The degree of sameness of the examinations within a day will be such that the same content, materials (scenarios, images, radiographs, etc) and qualifiers will be used by all examiners and the questions will be as much the same as possible while still allowing for examiners to individualise the examination to explore the knowledge of each candidate. Specific guidance is given in the Guidance notes for oral examinations.

Membership oral examinations will be designed to last approximately 45 minutes as specified in the Subject Guidelines. The exact duration of the examination for each candidate may vary depending on the speed with which the candidate proceeds through the questions.

Candidates will not be allowed unlimited time to answer questions, and examiners will move ahead to the next question after a reasonable time if candidates cannot answer.

Candidates are expected to present themselves for examination composed and ready to begin. Delays by the candidate at the start or during an examination of more than five minutes will not be allowed.

12.8 Assessment and Reporting - Procedure

- 12.8.1. The two written papers will be graded independently as a percentage by each of the examiners. The mean of both examiners' grades will provide a grade for each of the written papers. The mean of written paper 1 and written paper 2 will then provide the overall grade for Component 1.
- 12.8.2. A candidate's marks for the written component will not be released to a candidate before completion of the oral examination.
- 12.8.3. The Oral examination will be graded independently as a percentage by each of the examiners. These grades are averaged to give a single overall grade for the oral examination (Component 2)
- 12.8.4. The mean of the overall written component grade (Component 1) and the overall oral component grade (Component 2) is the candidate's combined final result.
- 12.8.5. All candidates receive their final result, on the same day (for examinations besides Medicine of Cats UK), currently the Friday of College Science Week.

12.9 Assessment and Reporting - Interpretation

COMPONENT MARK			EXAM GRADE
Either Component (Written, or Oral)	Other Component (Written or Oral)	Average (Components 1-2)

≥55	≥70	<70	SUPPLEMENTARY*
Candidate fails to fulfill the above conditions of PASS or SUPPLEMENTARY			FAIL

*need ≥70 to pass Supplementary

12.9.1 A PASS will be awarded if the candidate achieves at least 55% in one component (Written or Oral) AND at least 70% in the other component (Written or Oral) of the examination, AND achieves an overall average mark of at least 70%

12.9.2 A SUPPLEMENTARY examination will be allowed in only one component if the candidate achieves at least 55% in that component AND at least 70% in the other component, but achieves an overall average mark of less than 70%.

The Supplementary examination will be offered at the next College examination period.

12.9.3 The candidate will FAIL if he/she does not fulfill the conditions of a PASS or SUPPLEMENTARY examination grade.

12.10 Examination Recording and Reporting

12.10.2. Details of whether the candidate has passed, failed, or is to be offered a supplementary examination are calculated through the ERRS.

12.10.3. In the event of a 'fail' or 'supplementary' result candidates can request the examiners comments which are intended to advise the candidate the reason for their failure and give guidance for re-sitting the examination. Please see 12.12

12.11.1. Candidates access the ERRS to retrieve their examination result. The Chief Examiner will also advise candidates of their results in writing within 30 days of the Oral examination.

12.11.2 Candidates may not contact examiners before or after the examination. Or contact observers after the examination. Examiners or observers that are contacted by candidates are asked to direct all enquiries to the College office.

12.11.3 An appeal process is available to unsuccessful candidates (See section 15 below). All enquiries should be directed to the Executive Officer care of the College office.

- 12.11.4 Candidates that fail to attend or complete any examination component/s for the examination year or receive Extenuating Circumstances for a component cannot apply for the information provided to unsuccessful candidates in 12.12.1

12.12 Unsuccessful Candidates

- 12.12.1. Unsuccessful Membership Examination Candidates may make a written request for the College to provide information, and access to certain documents relating to unsuccessful examination component(s).

The purpose of releasing such information and providing access to such documents is to assist unsuccessful Candidates identify areas of weakness or poor performance that they can address if they reattempt the Membership Examinations. Details of a passed examination component will not be released.
